Residents protest removal of River City HS principal

By Daryl Fisher
Features Editor

BOTTOM: Protester Kevin Cheechov and his message.

Friday morning about two dozen local citizens and River City High School students with picket signs in hand gathered in front of the Washington Unified School District administration building to protest the recent ousting of longtime RCHS principal Mort Geivett. Geivett, a 24-year resident of West Sacramento who has been the RCHS principal since 1999, was notified last week by letter that he was being transferred to Yolo High School where he will become the interim principal. With only a few weeks to go before the high school reopens for the 2005-2006 school year, the as-of-yet unexplained decision to oust Geivett from his duties has many local residents and students upset.

Lauren Yeargin, who is a junior at River City High School and also her class's president, said "I'm demonstrating this morning in support of Mr. Geivett because I don't think he should have been fired. The students at River City really like Mr. Geivett and he hasn't done anything wrong. If you ask me, this is just school district politics and it's not in the best interest of the students."

Another demonstrator, lifelong West Sacramento resident Walt Cheechov, said "I'm out here in support of Mort because I've known him for over 30 years and I know he is a man of integrity who is being treated unfairly in this matter, especially by the school board president. I used to think Dave Farmer was a man of integrity, too, but no more. Decisions like this need to be made out in public, not behind closed doors, and Mort deserves to have his side of the story told. I've had two sons attend River City High School and they both loved having Mort as their principal."

Former WUSD trustee Irene Eklund, who was also on the picket line, said "The district delivered a letter to Mort the other afternoon informing him he was being reassigned to Yolo High School effective the very next day. Now what kind of due process is that? Plus his performance as a principal hasn't been properly evaluated by the school board in more than two years so how in the world is he even supposed know what areas they would like to see improvement in? When I was on the school board I didn't always agree with Mort on every issue, but he's been a faithful and hard-working employee of this school district for a long time and he certainly deserves better treatment than this."

Dani Langford, a local activist who has been critical in the past of both WUSD Superintendent Patrick Campbell and the school board, added, "What has happened to Mort is simply wrong. It's nothing but a witch-hunt and the individuals responsible for it don't have the best interest of our kids at heart. Who in their right mind would fire the principal of the high school just two weeks before classes are to begin? At the heart of this matter are a few disgruntled staff members and a corrupt school board and administration. This whole ugly episode needs to be independently investigated."

Geivett, when contacted by the News-Ledger earlier this week said, "At this time I can only confirm that I have been temporarily reassigned to Yolo High School where I will be in charge of all their alternative education programs. I will also be working with my attorney to make sure all my due process rights are followed in this matter."

Bonnie Braxton, a former vice principal at River City, is being brought out of retirement to serve as interim principal at the high school until a permanent replacement for Geivett can be identified. Besides having a change in its principal, River City High School will not see the return of any of last year's vice principals, either. Mike Woodcock, a former principal at Westfield Elementary School, has been named to be one of the new RCHS vice principals.

"As far as continuity at the high school goes," said WUSD Superintendent Patrick Campbell, "all the same department chairs are still in place, as are the counselors and the office staff. There is not a lot more I can tell you right now because lawyers are involved, but I can say we are all working hard to resolve this matter as quickly as possible and to the benefit of both the district and our students."

WUSD School Board President Dave Farmer is out of town this week and was unavailable for comment on this article.

New development on Sac Ave

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

Have you been wondering what kind of construction project is going on across from the Riverbend Shopping Center on Sacramento Avenue?

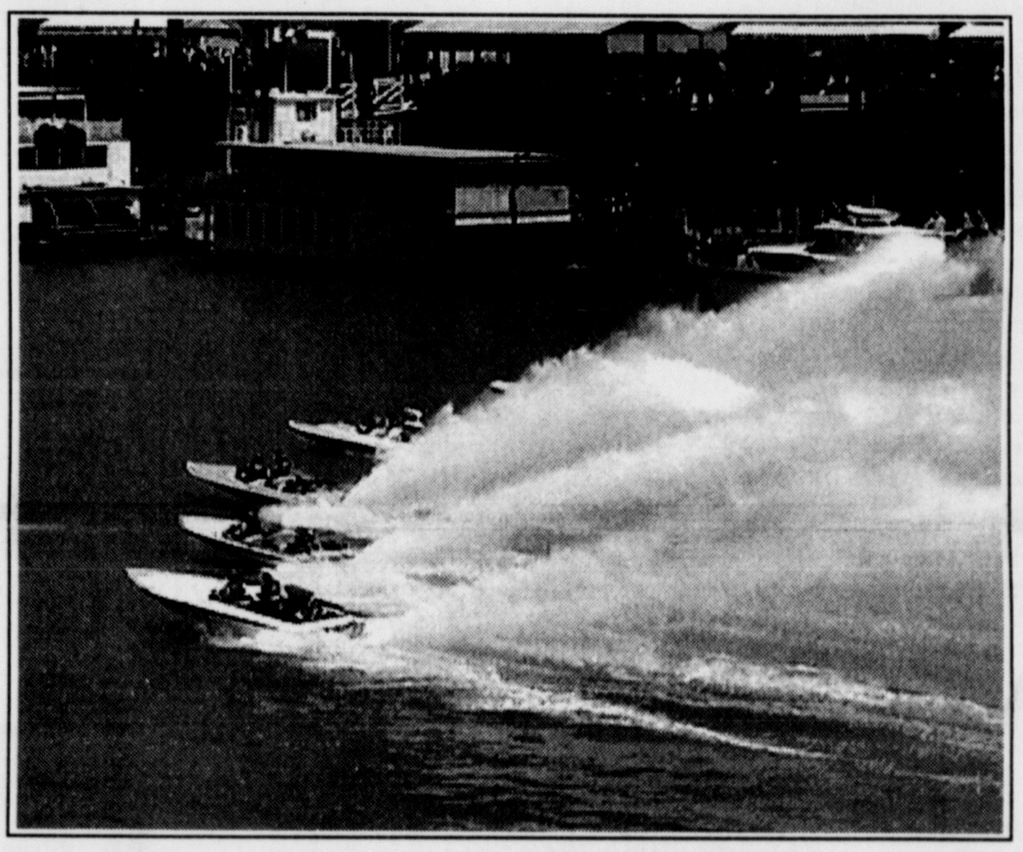

"Right now, we are just cleaning up the site after people have been dumping garbage there," said Gary Kwong, chief executive officer of G.A.B. Development, the landowner. "It has been a dumping site for years. We are getting the debris out so the land can be built on."

Kwong added that landfill, including concrete chunks, have been deposited at the eight-acre location over the years.

His company does not yet have an application in to the city for development, he said. But he expects a plan to be submitted within a few months.

"About a third of it will be commercial and part of it will be more like 'lofts' and residential," said Kwong.

Crash on Jefferson injures officer & two civilians

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

A West Sacramento police car was totaled and three people were injured in a crash on July 15 on Jefferson Boulevard. The accident occurred as Officer Jason Fortier was answering a call, using "Code 3" including lights and sirens, according to the California Highway Patrol, which is conducting the investigation.

"He was responding to a felony hit-and-run, and received permission from his supervisor to roll 'code three' – to go with lights and sirens," said CHP Officer Lagomarsino. "He was traveling approximately 40-45 miles per hour in the two-way left-turn lane southbound on Jefferson. Traffic was heavy, stop-and-go."

Traffic was at a standstill at the Alameda cross-street, and apparently motorists on Jefferson left a gap for a vehicle on Alameda to cross. That car was driven by 34-year old Teri Daily of Sacramento, who had a 12-year old boy in the rear passenger seat.

"We have reports that two lead vehicles on southbound Jefferson were stopped, and waved through Daily. Daily was at the stop sign on Alameda. She entered the two-way left turn lane not seeing the officer, and they hit head-on."

The accident is still under investigation.

Officer Fortier suffered injuries including broken ribs and a bruised lung. Daily suffered a broken wrist, injured ankle and major chest bruising. The youth in her car also was treated for chest injuries.

Prom dress closure?

Campbell pays district for red prom dress

By Steve Marschke
News-Ledger Editor

WUSD Superintendent Patrick Campbell – who could not be reached for last week's update on the infamous red prom dress paid for by the district – has told the News-Ledger that he has reimbursed the district for reimbursing for the dress. He ended up absorbing the cost of a parent's prom expenditure out of his pocket.

The dress had been banned by River City High School from its prom because officials believed the dress's dark-burgundy color was on a list of forbidden gang-related colors. Campbell had overruled that decision, then agreed to reimburse the student's guardian for the dress so the family could buy another.

He then obtained reimbursement for that $330 cost from the district.

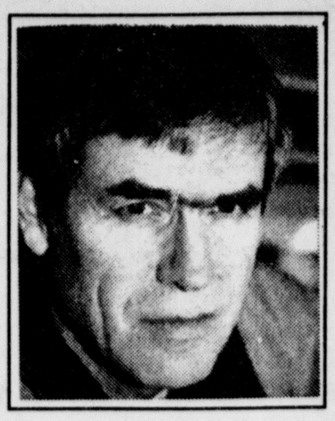

Campbell last week gave the News-Ledger a copy of a letter he wrote to an activist challenging that decision, which said "a number of people felt (the expense) was done to eliminate issues at the school and that I shouldn't be out money from my own pocket. It was then that I submitted a requisition to be reimbursed."

But, the letter added:

"Almost simultaneously to getting reimbursed, I decided there was too much controversy surrounding my own reimbursement, so I repaid the district the money for the prom dress out of my own pocket."

Christmas in July

My Back Pages

By Daryl Fisher

Note: With the war going on in Iraq, and with innocent civilians being blown up in subways while traveling to work in London, and with genocide still very much alive and well in Africa, and with people seemingly throughout the world opting for violence and passion over dialogue and reason, I'm reminded of the following little column, which first appeared in the News-Ledger many July's ago:

I went for my walk as usual the other night and a neighbor stopped me and asked if I had come up with a subject yet for this week's column.

"Christmas, I think," I answered.

"Christmas? he said, surprised and obviously a little worried that I had finally gone off the deep end. "But Daryl, in case you haven't noticed, it's only July."

"I know," I said, "but I ran across a little poem recently which kinda reminded me of a sermon I once heard in church."

"You go to church?" my neighbor asked, even more surprised.

"Well, not as often as I should," I admitted.

"So, what was the sermon about?"

"Oh, it was just about how we don't really work very hard at keeping the Christmas spirit alive throughout the whole year."

"The Christmas spirit?"

"Yeah, you know, when everyone seems to really care about their neighbor, and when most everyone is generous and kind to others, and especially appreciative of how much they love and need their families. Plus come Christmas time people seem to be almost eager to show compassion and concern for the less fortunate -- you know, everyone just seems to have all those good thoughts and feelings and actions that are a part of the Christmas season, like in that great Jimmy Stewart movie It's a Wonderful Life that they show over and over on television every Christmas season, where the theme is that every person's life matters and that we can all make a difference if we just make the effort."

After my neighbor had more or less agreed with me, although he obviously still thought I was acting and talking a little strange, I walked on and found myself thinking again about the "Christmas in July" sermon I had heard many years ago on a hot Sunday morning in West Sacramento's Trinity Presbyterian Church. And then for some reason I began recalling an old Army acquaintance who liked to systematically rip into just about every religion known to man. To him, Catholics were too involved with pagan idols and completely misunderstood the abortion issue; Jews didn't understand the importance of Christ to their salvation and controlled the news media; Born-Again Christians were too self-righteous and sure only they were going to heaven; Baptists were too conservative and too much into fire and brimstone; and Muslims treated their women horribly and were all crazed terrorists. Anyway, this of course reminded me that another 4th of July had just come and gone and that we were still struggling to be a land of tolerance and good will towards others, even if those others happen to look, think, or pray a little differently than we do. And how lately it's not just the different religions who seem to be at each other's throats, but also the young vs the old, the haves vs the have-nots, and those (especially politicians) with all the right on their side vs those without any.

"So, Dad," said my daughter later that night as I sat at my computer, "I hear you're going to write a column about Christmas in July?"

"I'm just going to pass along a little poem I ran across," I explained.

"What's it about?"

"It's about everyone making more of an effort to keep the Christmas spirit alive throughout the whole year."

"Think anyone will really care?"

"I hope so."

When the song of the angels is stilled,
When the star in the sky is gone,
When the kings and princes are home,
When the shepherds are back with their flocks,
The real work of Christmas begins:
To find the lost,
To heal the broken,
To feed the hungry,
To rebuild the nations,
To bring peace among brothers,
To make music in the heart.

The amazing Lance Armstrong continues to "Livestrong" winning his seventh consecutive Tour de France title. Superman Armstrong completed the 2,232-mile journey ahead of 154 other cyclists who endured the 21 stages of the race to claim his last title at the Champs-Elysees in Paris. Armstrong is calling it quits for bike racing!

Armstrong is a 33 year-old who is in a decade long recovery from metastasized testicular cancer. He has raised millions of dollars for his cancer survivor foundation through the sale of yellow Livestrong bracelets. I wear the bracelet proudly at all times but what I didn't realize was that the Lance Armstrong Foundation has sold over 50 million bracelets worldwide. Livestrong!

Major League Baseball

The Oakland A's (54-45) are on fire with another seven game winning streak and victories in 30 of their last 38 games. The green and gold have closed the gap on the first place Angels to 5 games and are in first place in the wild card race. The pitching staff has improved dramatically with Barry Zito leading the way.

The Giants (42-56) on the other hand are only 7 games back of the fading Padres but the wild spot is not an option. There are currently at least 12 clubs with a better record than the G-Men competing for the wild card. The Giants are running out of farm hands at Triple-A Fresno so look for a couple of trades before the July 31st deadline. The Giants need a closer very badly because Tyler Walker is still killing the Giants in the ninth inning.

The A's will be at home this week against Cleveland and Detroit while the Giants hit the road to Chicago and Milwaukee.

The school board of the Washington Unified School District will meet in open session at 7 p.m. on Thursday at the civic center's council chambers.

Among the agenda items will be a look at geotechnical reports for the planned K-8 academy and new high school, an update on the traffic study regarding the new high school, and action on the "eRate" program and technology improvements.

A West Sacramento activist reports that there will be a "town hall" meeting to discuss the city's gang member injuction at 9 a.m. on Saturday, July 30, at city hall. Police Chief Dan Drummond, Deputy District Attorney Jeff Reisig and members of the public are expected to attend. There will be translation services involving English and Spanish. Wrong vision for growth

There has been a great deal of debate about the suggested increase of density around here.

I'm trying to figure out why there is such a clamor to swell the density in the Southport area while the City is selling out on it's ability to place the density where it was originally planned.

Years ago, the cities of Sacramento and West Sacramento were in a bitter dispute over the State consolidating it's offices into new downtown high rises. There was a push to get some of those buildings over here in the Triangle area and Sacramento fought to keep all the high rises in Sac. I felt that they should have them all. The available real estate that Sacramento had would be virtually used up for non income producing public buildings, and while the market for high rises increased, West Sacramento would have the only available land for the Private Companies and High Rise Housing. That, I felt, was a very good thing.

Now, the real estate market has shifted dramatically, and Sacramento is being favored with the first large high-rise condos, proving that the time is right for high rise development.

Our plans for high rise density, however, seems to be an apartment complex. It seems to me that we have the perfect opportunity to capitalize on development in the Triangle area, but are being sold out. Increase density in Southport, reduce the level of competition in the high rise market by committing the triangle land to development far below what was planned for, and it starts to look like someone has made a deal so as not to compete with Sacramento.

I am really quite tired of having a Mayor and a Council who cannot promote "our" City to Our advantage.

In favor of John Roberts

Just as presidents in the past have had the right to choose their Supreme Court nominee, so does President Bush have that right and in fact obligation.

John Roberts is recognized as a legal scholar, has the temperament required for a Supreme Court justice, has a great legal background and education, and deserves to be on the court, without obstruction.

In 1993 President Bill Clinton nominated and had approved by a 96-3 vote a radical lawyer from the ACLU board of directors. Many who voted for Ruth Ginsberg were opposed to her radicalism and her extremist judicial philosophy. However, they recognized that as long as Ruth Ginsberg met the minimal requirements, which she did, she had the right to be on the court.

John Roberts is not an extremist like Ginsberg, he far exceeds the qualifications and deserves a quick up and down vote so he can take his seat on the Supreme Court as President Bush desires.

Community Workshops on the City of West Sacramento's Bicycle, Pedestrian, and Trail Network

The City of West Sacramento is beginning the process of updating the Pedestrian and Bicycle Master Plan. The new Bicycle, Pedestrian, and Trail Master Plan will identify ways to enhance and expand the existing network of pedestrian and bike travelways and recreational trails, connect gaps in the system, and improve problem areas. The two workshops will include: 1) a presentation on the goals of the Master Plan and preliminary findings; 2) provide an opportunity for residents and stakeholders to ask questions and provide comments on pedestrian, bicycling, equestrian, and other non-motorized transport issues and opportunities in West Sacramento.

Come share your ideas for creating a more bicycle-, pedestrian-, and horse-friendly community at one of two community meetings on recreation, transportation, business and neighborhood connectivity:

- Discuss what parts of the existing pedestrian and bicycle commute and recreation network are working, what parts are not working, and what is missing
- Suggest improvements to existing streets, intersections, paths and trails - such as bike parking, signage or lane markings, benches, drinking fountains, staging areas - that would encourage you and your neighbors to ride and walk more
- Rate the "walkability", "bikeability", effectiveness, attractiveness, and safety of other non-motorized transport and recreation options in your neighborhood
- Discuss what the city can do to encourage more employers to provide amenities such as secure bike parking, lockers, showers, and commuter passes to assist bike and pedestrian commuters
- Tell us how to make West Sacramento a safer place for you and your children to walk, ride or skate to work, to school, for health, and for recreation

Workshop #1: Riding and Walking for Transportation
Wednesday, August 10, 2005, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.
City Hall Galleria, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento

Workshop #2: Riding and Walking for Recreation
Thursday, August 11, 2005, from 6 p.m. to 8 p.m.
City Hall Galleria, 1110 West Capitol Avenue, West Sacramento

Both workshops will include similar presentations on the planning process. While participants will be encouraged to provide input on issues and concerns related to the workshop title, discussion and suggestions will not be limited to transportation or recreation at either meeting. Please attend the session that fits your schedule!

Watercolors at library:

Art by Sokolich on display

A watercolor exhibit of recent paintings by local artist Betty Fairbairn Sokolich is currently on display at the Arthur Turner Library, 1212 Merkley Avenue, and will run through August 31st.

Mrs. Sokolich has been active in art circles for many years and has been chairperson of the art exhibits for the Turner Library since she initiated the shows back in the early 1960's.

The many shapes and forms found in nature always fascinates the artist so her main subjects are landscapes and flowers. The current exhibit includes scenes from her recent trips to Oregon as well as a favorite camping place in the foothills near Nevada City.

Joe Sokolich installs the exhibits and a reception for the artist will be held on August 27th from 2-4 p.m. The exhibits are sponsored by the East Yolo Friends of the Library.

OPINION

Letters to the Editor

Just build it!

The problem with the new high school, as I see it, is not that there is "too much fluff" in the school. (However, Mr. Langford (opinion letter in the 7/20 issue) is right, we don't need a coffee shop on campus.) The problem is not that it doesn't meet the needs of the students. The problem is not that the community can't afford it. The problem is that the district has spent too much time letting community members get their fingers into the proverbial pie. Every time I read The News-Ledger, I see another article about a public meeting where residents have voiced their disapproval and called for a scaling back of the current plan, or a new set of plans altogether. Now, because of rising construction costs, the longer we wait, the more expensive the price tag gets.

In the beginning, I was all in favor of letting the public have a voice in the design of the new high school. However, the district should have submitted two different design plans for a public vote. The plan that received the most votes should have been built -- end of discussion. If that had been done, the high school would be nearing completion by now. As the saying goes, "You can ever satisfy 100% of the people 100% of the time." The school district has been kowtowing to the public for too long. Enough is enough. Build the darn school already!

In support of Principal Geivett

In my letter to the editor last week I mentioned the effort to oust River City High School Principal Mort Geivett and the athletic director. Mr. Geivett received notice on July 21st that he was being transferred to Yolo High. The current administration has trampled all over Mr. Geivett's right to due process. He put a written request in to the administration to speak in front of the school board to address the alleged infractions. The request continues to go unanswered and the board was told by the Associate Superintendent of Human Resources that Mr. Geivett did not wish to speak to them. The administration may have been able to silence Mr. Geivett, but they cannot silence the community. Whether you are a student, parent or friend of Mr. Geivett, join us at the next school board meeting on Thursday, July 28th at 7 p.m. at city hall to give him the support he needs to defend himself against the malicious actions of the administration.

Bad traffic in the north, too

Traffic problems in West Sacramento? You ain't seen nothin' yet! More than one thousand houses at the "Rivers", plus the condos, and after the zoning change, the "Village"! Plus a nearby 200 unit apartment complex at the corner of Sacramento Avenue and Douglas, and the development at the end of the I Street Bridge. Where oh where will all the autos go?

Yes, the Rivers development built a very nice road -- Lighthouse Drive. And the city put bike lanes on Sacramento Avenue in front of the apartment complex, which are already marked for whatever utility needs the new strip mall will have.

But, folks, even with eminent domain and tearing up streets and yards and homes on Douglas and Kegle and surrounding areas, it's still a long, long way to the bottleneck we call freeway ramps!

In appreciation of the Ohlsons

On July 18th the West Sacramento Democrats held a meeting at the Turner Library which in part honored West Sac resident (since 1950) and club founder John Ohlson, who turned 90 about a month ago. About 60 or 65 folks showed up and appropriately, several times he was praised for his longtime volunteer work.

Prior to the meeting I got my ears lowered and before leaving, Bill Havey Jr., longtime local barber, suggested we name (like) a local park after John and name a school after his late wife, Grace K. Ohlson, who served Yolo County folks as a trustee of the Los Rios Community College for 24 years. Terrific idea, Bill!

For starters, since we will soon (I hope) have a LRCC campus across from the West Sacramento City Hall, why not name our new LRCC library after Grace Ohlson? And maybe after the new West Sac high school is built, we'll have a school -- probably a junior high school -- needing renovation and a new name -- bingo again! Name that refurbished school (located in John's neck of the woods) or a park adjacent to the new high school after John. Or, we could name the new LRCC library after both John and Grace. Such action would reflect our appreciation for their longtime dedication to our community.

Geivett treated unfairly

I am a parent of children in this school district and have grave concerns regarding the relocation of Mr. Geivett, Principal of River City High School. Effective July 25th, Mr. Geivett was reassigned to Interim Principal on special assignment for alternative education programs for the district starting with the 2005/2006 school year. Per a phone conversation with the superintendent on July 22nd, "interim" is the keyword. There still needs to be a hearing.

I do not understand why a reassignment would take place prior to a hearing. One would think that the district would not want to rock the boat any further until a final decision has been made. Or, has a final decision been made and the district is just creating a facade to make it appear that they are fulfilling their legal responsibilities of due process?

Although the story is extremely convoluted, I would like to give you the Reader's Digest version. In recent months, the high school athletic director and principal have been under investigation for improprieties regarding fundraising and handling of the athletic fund. It is my understanding that the accusations brought against the athletic director have no merit; however, the district is still holding Mr. Geivett accountable. Mr. Geivett is now being reprimanded for not completing the master plan for the upcoming school year. What is the real reason?

My opinion, as well as others in the community, is that this whole ordeal has personal vendetta written all over it! It is also politically motivated and appears to be nothing more than a witch-hunt. An unnamed board member has, in the past, had issues with both the athletic direction and principal. Mr. Geivett in not a "yes man" and their marionette strings will not work on him. The board and district are using whatever means, justly or not, to accomplish their mission.

The operations of the district have been, and continue to be, dysfunctional. Someone must be held accountable. Unfortunately, for the students and the community, the sacrificial lamb is Mr. Geivett.

My father was a teacher in this district for many years and at times did not meet eye-to-eye with the administration. He was a man of honor and integrity and did not believe in the "good old boy" network. To my dismay, our district has and will, most likely, continue to work along the good old boys network theme.

I have known Mr. Geivett for many years and he is extremely committed to this community, both professionally and personally. The methods being used to railroad him sicken me.

As a community it is time for all of us to get involved. It is imperative that we speak and be heard at the next board meeting scheduled for July 28th.

Rotarians can be proud

Thanks so much for the page 1 photo and story ("Planting a local rest stop") in your July 13th issue about West Sacramento's new Rotary Centennial Park. Partnerships between volunteers such as the Rotarians the city staff can pay off in projects such as this one, which improve the quality of life in the community. Local service groups like the West Sacramento Rotary Club who take on these kinds of challenges can be proud of their hard work.

RCHS principal should stay

Help! The students of River City High School need your help. The WUSD administration and certain members of the school board are not acting in the best interests of the students they took an oath "to put first". With no due process and no proven evidence of misconduct, the superintendent and associate superintendent have chose to remove the principal of RCHS, which currently has almost 1700 students and "temporarily" reposition him to Yolo High School of about 300 students. Who are they kidding? Two weeks before school is to begin, disrupting and putting RCHS staff and students in total turmoil, is not in the best interests of the student body.

We continually hear the school board talk about the need to raise test scores, yet the district's administration has now created a hostile learning environment. Also, this decision could have huge repercussions and case a dangerous environment for the students in attendance at RCHS. We can no longer tolerate the personal agenda's and vendetta's of some, to be played out by any board members, the superintendent or the associate superintendent. Maybe we should join Center Unified School District to remove those with personal issues that have taken their power and abused the system!

Our principal, who is a man of integrity, that

Bobby Jackson to Memphis in a three-way trade that sent Greg Ostertag back home to Utah for the wild and crazy Bonzi Wells. Bonzi is a character but he can play some basketball. Utah will complete the deal by sending two bench players to Memphis. All NBA trades and signing are still on hold until the new NBA contract is ratified.

Maurice Evans, 26, is shopping his services around the league looking for that big contract and an opportunity to be a starter in the league. The signing of Wells will also affect restricted free agent Darius Songaila

On a sad note the Lakers second round pick, Ronny Turiaf, will have to undergo heart surgery to correct a life-threatening condition that will probably end his playing career and nullify is contract. The good news for the young man is that the Lakers are paying all his medical bills.

Who knows maybe the Kings will bring back the Doug and Jackie Christie show at a bargain basement price or they may even end up with bad boy Ron Artest!

NFL News

Guess who's back in the NFL? If you guessed Ricky Williams you win a cigar. Williams, who quit last year to enjoy a different life style and his homegrown cigars, has reported to the Miami Dolphins training camp. The players don't really want him back after he deserted them last season but new coach Nick Saban may have a trick up his sleeve by trading him.

I only missed it by $3 million when I predicted the 49ers would sign first round pick Alex Smith to a $60 million dollar contract. Smith signed a six-year $57 million deal with $24 million guaranteed. Smith will now report to camp on July 29th to battle Tim Rattay and Ken Dorsey for the starting quarterback spot.

The Raiders and 49ers will square off this year in the first preseason game on August 13 at Monster Park.

THE CHOPPING BLOCK

GO AHEAD, STUFF A MUSHROOM

Someone once said, "Life is too short to stuff a mushroom." Whoever it was, he or she obviously knew nothing about mushrooms, never noticed that when stuffed mushrooms are on the hors d'oeuvre table, they are the first to disappear, even with simple herbed breadcrumb filling.

The mushroom we give you today is that large, meaty daddy of the mushroom family, the portabella, which can satisfy the heartiest appetite on its own as a main course. Here it's grilled or broiled and filled with grilled shrimp that have been bathed in a mixture of fresh tomatoes, oil, lemon juice and basil.

Then to show the versatility of mushrooms, we've included a variation of classic ratatouille with white mushrooms. The beauty of this is that you may serve it as is, or fill a grilled or broiled portabella cap for double the dining pleasure, or tuck some into a brunch or dinner omelet, or serve it as a side dish with meat, poultry or fish.

GRILLED PORTABELLA CAPS WITH SHRIMP

- 1 pound large shrimp, shelled and deveined
- 4 medium portabella mushroom caps (about 1 pound)
- 5 tablespoons olive oil, divided
- 2 tablespoons fresh lemon juice
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/8 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1/2 cup halved grape or cherry tomatoes
- 1/2 cup thinly sliced fresh basil leaves or 1 tablespoon dried basil

Prepare outdoor grill or preheat broiler. Thread shrimp onto skewers. Brush shrimp and portabella caps with 2 tablespoons of the oil.

In a medium-sized bowl, whisk together the remaining 3 tablespoons oil, lemon juice, salt and paper; add tomatoes and basil leaves; set aside.

Place portabellas and shrimp skewers on grill or arrange on a rack in a pan. Grill or broil about 5 inches from heat source, turning shrimp once, until cooked through, about 3 minutes; remove from skewers and add to bowl with tomato mixture. Turn portabellas and continue grilling until softened, 2 to 4 minutes longer. Place portabellas, smooth side down, on 4 serving plates. Spoon shrimp and tomato mixture into caps, dividing evenly. Garnish with basil sprigs and serve with salad greens, if desired. Makes 4 portions.

MUSHROOM RATATOUILLE

- 1 pound fresh white mushrooms
- 2 large onions (about 1 pound)
- 1 medium eggplant (1 pound)
- 2 medium zucchini (1 pound)
- 1 large sweet red or green bell pepper (about 8 ounces)
- 2 large ripe tomatoes (1 pound)
- 2 tablespoons olive oil
- 4 teaspoons finely chopped garlic, or to taste
- 1 teaspoon Italian seasoning
- 3/4 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 teaspoon ground black pepper

Cut mushrooms in thick slices; slice onions in wedges; cut eggplant, zucchini, bell pepper and tomatoes into 1-inch cubes. In a large (12-inch) skillet (preferably nonstick), heat oil over medium heat. Add onions, cook 3 minutes, add garlic; cook and stir until golden, about 4 minutes. Add mushrooms and eggplant; cook and stir until lightly browned, about 4 minutes. Add zucchini, bell pepper, tomatoes, Italian seasoning, salt and black pepper. Cover and cook, stirring occasionally, just until vegetables are tender, about 10 minutes. Serve in four grilled portabella caps on a bed of couscous, if desired. Makes 6 to 8 portions (8 cups)

A Cop's Life:
True Stories From the Heart Behind the Badge
by Randy Sutton
(St. Martin's Press, $23.95)
Reviewed by Larry Cox

Veteran Las Vegas police sergeant Randy Sutton edited the highly acclaimed "True Blue," a collection of real-life police stories published in 2003. His book was especially intriguing in that each and every story was personally written by a police officer.

In his latest book, Sutton takes yet another gritty, intimate look at the day-to-day life of the cop on the beat, going behind the investigations and arrests to reveal the truly funny and weird things that can, and often do, happen to cops in the line of duty.

Ever wonder how a cop feels, thinks, hopes, prays and copes? Some of the answers can be found in this powerful and emotionally charged book. The stories are varied, but one that is especially compelling deals with the very real problem of cop suicide. When Sgt. Sutton's partner kills himself, the crushing event triggers his own feelings of helplessness and self-doubt.

In another story, an old woman in a nursing home is beaten to death by her own daughter, and Sutton discovers he must cope with his very real feelings of revenge toward the killer. There is also his inspirational account of how he revived and saved the life of an infant gravely wounded in a drive-by shooting.

"A Cop's Life" is filled with real-life stories that are touching, harrowing and haunting. The crisp writing style makes for a moving book that is both insightful and, yes, at times emotionally wrenching. This is the next best thing to actually being in a patrol car with a cop on duty, and better and more real than any screenplay or work of fiction.

Plums

Availability: June through September

Buying Tips: A plum's sweetness does not increase as the fruit softens, so be sure to purchase ripe fruit. Its color is determined by the variety. Plums should be plump and evenly colored and yield to gentle pressure. If the powdery bloom is still on the skin, it's a sign they haven't been overhandled. Avoid hard, shriveled or cracked plums.

To Store: Refrigerate ripe plums and use within five days.

To Prepare: Wash plums, then cut into each center to remove the pit, if desired. For serving, slice or cut up the fruit, with or without the skin. When cooked, the amount of sugar needed will depend on the variety.

Strange BUT TRUE

By Samantha Weaver

• It can be frustrating dealing with someone who's having a midlife crisis. If you are in such a position, just read about Terry Brand and thank your lucky stars: After three months of flying lessons, the 45-year-old went on his first solo flight. Once aloft, he radioed air traffic controllers and apologized, then crashed the plane into the ocean. A note was later found at his home saying that he wasn't depressed, just "following his destiny." He said that his good looks and love of life would have been gone in 10 years, and he didn't want to endure the loss.

• Before he became a writer, Samuel Clemens — better known as Mark Twain — worked as a miner.

• It's common historical knowledge that in 1942 Dwight D. Eisenhower was given command of all U.S. troops in Europe. Most people don't realize, though, that despite the fact that he had been in the military for more than two decades, he'd never once been in combat; he spent 20 years training soldiers.

• The ancient Greek philosopher Aristotle once commented, "A democracy is a government in the hands of men of low birth, no property and unskilled labor."

• In the 1600s, Japan made it illegal for anyone to enter or leave the country. Anyone caught coming or going without permission was executed on the spot.

• There are huge differences between individual people, right? Chew on this: The DNA of any two humans is about 99.9 percent identical.

• Salt is mentioned in the Bible at least 30 times.

The Sacramento River registered 8 feet 2 inches, U. S. gauge at the bridge, yesterday.

Nearly every resident of Washington has expressed the hope that on next Tuesday, July 4th, the residents of the town will stay at home and witness the efforts of the Volunteer Firemen to celebrate the day. The firemen are more than anxious to please and the showing made last year bids favorable towards securing a big crowd.

The many barges and steamers now in the river waiting for repairs at the hands of the Sacramento Transportation Co. is an assurance that much work will be done during the fall and winter. A force of about twenty men is now employed by the company and if the work increases more will be placed at work.

The front levee is still in an unfinished condition and much complaint is being heard especially from residents whose homes are located in the neghborhood. A slight breeze scatters the loose sand to the great discomfiture of housekeepers and storekeepers.

C. H. MERKLEY MET DEATH IN AUTO ACCIDENT LAST WEDNESDAY

EVIDENTLY DEATH WAS INSTANTANEOUS WITH LITTLE SUFFERING AFTER MISHAP.

Alone in his car, C. H. Merkley met death last Wednesday morning on the levee road north of Washington when for some reason, wholly inexplicable, his auto turned turtle on the loose sand and crushed him to death underneath, to right itself against a tree a few feet farther down the embankment.

The announcement of his death cast a pall of gloom over the community, for Charley Merkley, as he was familiarly known, was a wholesouled, good natured man of many sterling qualities, and a heart as big as all out of doors.

All night his body lay on the edge of the levee to be discovered at about 6 o'clock in the morning by C. Crenshaw who happened to be passing.

Crenshaw immediately notified the nearest neighbor, W. E. M. Beardslee, and after a short investigation by the two men, Merkley was found to be dead.

The previous evening he spent in Sacramento attending to business. About 9 p. m. he was in the company of Supervisor Leinberger, and at 12 midnight he crossed the S. P. bridge in company with George Newton.

From that time on his movements are unknown, for he was not seen by any other known person until his body was discovered early next morning.

The portion of the road over which Merkley was traveling at the time of the accident has many chuck holes. From appearances it would seem that to avoid those chuck holes he steered his car close to the edge of the levee and the loose sand apparently gave him no foundation to return the car to the beaten track at the crown of the levee. The result was instantaneous death, for the car turned over and apparently crushed the life out of him while rolling down the embankment.

A willow tree saved the car from rolling into the river.

Merkley was found lying on his face with the steering wheel of the automobile in his right hand. He had made no move after the accident, judging from his position, and the lights on the car were found still burning by Crenshaw.

The exact time of the accident may never be known, although the clock in the auto had stopped at 1:05 a. m.

Information received at his home advises that the clock had not been running for some time past.

Merkley's body was taken care of immediately by Deputy Coroner Russell and is now at the undertaking parlors of Miller & Skelton, Sacramento.

The Coroner's inquest was held last Wednesday evening which rendered a verdict that he had come to his death from an automobile accident at the point indicated. The exact location of the accident is about 1,000 feet north of the Beardslee home, or about half way between the house and the Tule Jake road. There were few scars on the body, the cause of death evidently being an indenture in the forehead over the left eye.

Mr. Merkley was dearly beloved by every neighbor with whom he was acquainted. Big in stature, as well as in nature, his hand was always open to give what he could to his fellowmen, and his family was his constant care and solicitude.

To mourn him he leaves two boys, Allan and Wallace, and a daughter, Charlotte, by a former marriage. In addition, his wife, Ida, with two young children, a girl of two years and a boy of two months mourn him.

He was 47 years, 9 months and 15 days of age. He was born in Sacramento County on the family place and was a son of the late John and Mrs. Ella T. Merkley. He was a brother of A. A. Merkley, Mrs. E. D. Adams, R. A. Merkley, Mrs. W. F. Quinton, and the late Kate and J. J. Merkley.

The funeral, which was held today from the parlors of Miller & Skelton, was private, interment being in the City Cemetery in Sacramento.

Mrs. E. A. Palm is still confined to her home suffering with an injured knee-cap. Several weeks ago she stumbled on the bridge while crossing to Sacramento. She expects to be able to get around in a few weeks.

NEW OFFICERS NAMED FOR WASHINGTON IMPROVEMENT CLUB

REQUEST WILL BE MADE TO CHANGE ENTRANCE TO SOUTHERN PACIFIC BRIDGE.

At the meeting of the Washington Improvement Club last Tuesday evening nearly all the old officers of the organization were re-elected for the coming six months.

To replace Mrs. Belle Porter who has held the position of Vice-President during the past term, Mrs. E. Reynolds was selected.

The officers for the coming term will therefore be: President, Mrs. F. H. Todhunter; Vice-President, Mrs. E. Reynolds; Treasurer, Mrs. Curry; Recording Secretary, Mrs. B. Parkinson; Financial Secretary, Miss Williams; Trustees, Mrs. Braun, Mrs. McNevin and Mrs. Hutchinson.

The proposal to request the Southern Pacific Company to widen the aproach to the bridge was taken up by the club, but owing to the fact that the present time might prejudice the building of a roadway north of the Southern Pacific tracks, between 3rd street and 7th streets, the matter was postponed until a future date.

There will be no meeting of the Improvement Club on the evening of July 4th, next Tuesday, but on the following week committees will be named to take care of the interests of the club during the ensuing six months.

CHURCH DEDICATION NEXT SUNDAY

The new church at Riverbank will be dedicated next Sunday by Right Rev. Bishop Grace of Sacramento.

This new addition to the churches of Yolo County is another monument to the untiring zeal of Rev. Father Wallrath, who has been known as "the church builder."

The dedicatory services will commence at 10:30 a. m. and following them a lunch will be served by the ladies of the district under the shade of great oaks in the next block.

Trains will be run on the Northern Electric from Sacramento and Woodland to Riverbank Station for the convenience of those who wish to attend.

The Riverbank church is conveniently located near Sacramento avenue and within three blocks of Riverbank Station.

ALL LEVEE BILLS PAID BY TRUSTEES

Taking it for granted that the property owners of Washington are not irterested in the conduct of levee affairs the Trustees of Washington District have paid all bills incurred in the improvement lately completed on the front levee.

About two weeks ago the Trustees posted notices that a meeting of all the property owners in the district would be held for the purpose of showing how funds were spent in the improvement.

At that meeting not a single taxpayer showed up and not a single property owner evinced any interest in the actions of the Trustees.

The bill, particularly which the Trustees desired to call to the attention of the taxpayers, was that of the attorney, H. Nelson French, amounting to $312,50. The Trustees believed this bill to be exhorbitant, and as Mr. French threatened suit if the bill was not paid, the meeting above specified was called.

There being no response the bill was compromised for $262.50 and ordered paid to Mr. French.

Whether it be disgust or lack of interest on the part of the taxpayers in the actions of the Levee Trustees, no one seems to know. At any rate the bills have been paid with the exception of a very few small items and these will be settled as soon as itemized accounts are presented to the Trustees.

NOTICE OF PETITION TO ADMINISTER ESTATE OF GERTRUDE DOTY
CASE NUMBER PB-05-127

To all heirs, beneficiaries, creditors, contingent creditors, and persons who may otherwise be interested in the will or estate, or both, of Gertrude Doty AKA Gertrude M. Doty:

A PETITION FOR PROBATE has been filed by Pat Colburn in the Superior Court of California, County of Yolo.

THE PETITION FOR PROBATE requests that Pat Colburn be appointed as personal representative to administer the estate of the decedent.

THE PETITION requests the decedent's will and codicils, if any, be admitted to probate. The will and any codicils are available for examination in the file kept by the court.

THE PETITION requests authority to administer the estate under the Independent Administration of Estates Act. (This authority will allow the personal representative to take many actions without obtaining court approval. Before taking certain very important actions, however, the personal representative will be required to give notice to interested persons unless they have waived notice or consented to the proposed action.) The independent administration authority will be granted unless an interested person files an objection to the petition and shows good cause why the court should not grant the authority.

A HEARING on the petition will be held on Aug. 4, 2005, at 8:30 a.m., in Dept. 11, Superior Court of California, County of Yolo, 812 Court St., Woodland, CA 95695.

IF YOU OBJECT to the granting of the petition, you should appear at the hearing and state your objections or file written objections with the court before the hearing. Your appearance may be in person or by your attorney.

IF YOU ARE A CREDITOR or a contingent creditor of the deceased, you must file your claim with the court and mail a copy to the personal representative appointed by the court within four months from the date of first issuance of letters as provided in Probate Code section 9100. The time for filing claims will not expire before four months from the hearing date noticed above.

YOU MAY EXAMINE the file kept by the court. If you are a person interested in the estate, you may file with the court a "Request for Special Notice" (form DE-154) of the filing of an inventory and appraisal of estate assets or of any petition or account as provided in Probate Code section 1250. A "Request for Special Notice" form is available from the court clerk.
